ADDISON COUNTY FAIR.

One of the Most Successful in History of Association.

The 72d annual fair of the Addison County Agricultural Society opened on the fair ground Tuesday morning. A good part of the day was taken up in entering and arranging the exhibits. There are large exhibits in all the departments, the live stock and poultry classes being especially well filled. The exhibit of the State agricultural department, in charge of J. E. Carrigan, county agent, should prove of much value to the farmers.

The fish and game department, in charge of County Game Warden George A. Chaffee, is larger and much better than in previous years. There are some very fine specimens of different kinds of fish.

In the sheep department the exhibits were never better than this year.

Floral hall is well filled with exhibits from local and out-of-town firms, Hanks & Chilson, F. A. Evans, E. G. Hunt having finely arranged booths.

Mechanics Hall contains many exhibits of farming machinery, automobiles, traction engines, etc. Among those notable are the exhibits of W. H. Stokes & Co. and A. J. Blackmer, Fred C. Smith, James Cartmell and Allen Cobb with fine displays of automobiles.

Middlebury College has a tastefully arranged booth showing the college buildings, with handsome photographs of the new Hepburn Hall and the new Mead Chapel.

J. E. Crane and F. D. Manchester as usual have fine displays of honey put up in fancy jars and bottles. Mr. Manchester reports that he has over 500 pounds of honey at the fair.

In Exhibition Hall the exhibits are much larger than in previous years. A number of handsome paintings are shown. There are also many pen drawings by the children which are attracting much attention. The students of Middlebury High school have a fine display of tables, desks etc., made by them in their manual training department.

There is an excellent showing of Morgan and Percheron horses, also matched and single drivers.

The grounds in general show an improvement over last year.

The Middlebury band of 25 pieces furnished music during the fair and also gave concerts in the park Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

BREAKS BOTH BONES IN LEG.

Alfred Bouvier had the misfortune to break both bones of the left leg Tuesday evening while on his way to go fishing. It seems he stepped into a hole on the highway some distance from the village. He lay beside the road from 7 o'clock until about 1 o'clock when his cries were heard by Arthur Kenworthy who was passing in an automobile. He brought Mr. Bouvier to his home on Court street and Dr. Dorey was called to attend him. He was taken Wednesday evening to the Fanny Allen hospital in Burlington.
